

E-Health Insider Live 2009 – The ICC Birmingham, 9-10 November 2009

Leading healthcare IT publishers E-Health Insider have announced that their conference and exhibition, E-Health Insider Live 2009, will be extended over two days this year, again at The ICC, Birmingham on 9-10 November.

Registration for the event is now open via the website www.ehealthinsiderlive.com

EHI editor Jon Hoeksma said: "It is a hugely positive move growing the event over two days. E-Health Insider Live 2009 gives us the opportunity to broaden the content of our conference programme to reach more widely into our healthcare IT community.

"The new format will also give visitors greater access to the 80 or so exhibitors - who will be showcasing technologies and services currently available to the healthcare IT professional."

In addition, the two day format will give attendees more opportunities to meet and engage with their peers, Hoeksma continues, "The middle evening at Jongleurs Comedy Club will provide a fun and informal environment for people to enjoy dinner, meet old friends and network with new contacts attending the show."

E-Health Insider Live 2009 has a free-to-visit exhibition hosting live demonstrations, feature areas and the Best Practice Showcase. There is a free to attend the conference with significant discounts available to NHS employees. Delegates are provided with lunch, break refreshments and access to all areas of the exhibition.

To register, or for more information on E-Health Insider Live 2009 visit: www.ehealthinsiderlive.com

Media Contact Only:

Neil Hadland, Head of Events

T: 020 7785 6924

E: neil@e-health-media.com

Reader enquiries about the E-Health Insider Live 2009

Clare McNulty or Neil Hadland

T: 020 7785 6900

E: events@e-health-media.com

Note to Editors:

Issued on 20th May 2009

E-Health Insider Live 2009 is organised by:

E-Health Insider, Southbank House, Black Prince Road, London, SE1 7SJ